Catherine Deluz joined Moody's Toronto office in May 2006 as Vice President Senior Analyst in the project finance team.

She focuses on infrastructure and project finance, including Public Private Partnerships. As such, she has rated the debt issued by most of the larger projects in Canada in recent years: North West Redwater Partnership, a new refinery in Alberta; SSL Finance Inc., the new Champlain bridge in Montreal, Quebec; The Muskrat Falls and related asset hydro project in Newfoundland; the Lower Mattagami hydro project in Ontario; the Eglinton LRT project in Ontario; the CHUM hospital project in Quebec; the Regina Bypass project in Saskatchewan. She also rates several of the Canadian airports and airport related assets and is the author of two Moody's rating methodologies.

Prior to joining Moody's, Catherine worked at Royal Bank of Canada for 19 years, mostly in Corporate Banking, structuring credit facilities in the utilities and infrastructure sector.

Catherine has an MBA from the University of British Columbia.
